Included in the presentation was a Ted Talk video with Simon Sinek titled "Leaders Eat Last". The video argues that great leaders create environments allowing others to feel safe enough to open up and give their all on the job. Additionally, there were a few meaningful quotes in the presentation such as "Leadership is the social influence, which maximizes the effort of others toward achievement of a goal." and a quote by Bill Gates, "As we look ahead into the next century, leaders will be those who empower others."
